

Dear Friends and Food-lovers,

Finally, after six years in the making, I have completed and published my first collection of

Recipes & Stories

Famed chefs, friends, neighbors, peasants and strangers have all taught us something worth bringing to our table. Their lessons, garnered from their kitchens and from their lives, I share with you in stories, recipes and sketches.

This is not simply a cookbook!

120 pages – 14 stories – 70 recipes – spiral bound, soft cover

This first printing is a limited edition. Reserve your copy today by sending order and payment. Books will be mailed from Baltimore at the end of October 2009.

$23 per copy (this includes shipping and handling).

$100 for 5 copies mailed to the same address, and the postage is on me!

Payment by personal check made out to Ginda Simpson and mailed to:

Maggi Reid

Post Office Box 905

Brooklandville, MD 21022

Don't forget to include your mailing address, and if you want your book personally signed, please provide name to which it is to be addressed.

Ginda Simpson

ginda1221@yahoo.com